

Old Testament Reading: Isaiah 9:1–4

<sup>1</sup>There will be no gloom for her who was in anguish. In the former time he brought into contempt the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, but in the latter time he has made glorious the way of the sea, the land beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations.

- <sup>2</sup> The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; those who dwell in a land of deep darkness, on them has light shined.
- <sup>3</sup> You have multiplied the nation; you have increased its joy; they rejoice before you as with joy at the harvest, as they are glad when they divide the spoil.
- <sup>4</sup> For the yoke of his burden, and the staff for his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, you have broken as on the day of Midian.

Epistle: 1 Corinthians 1:10–18

<sup>10</sup>I appeal to you, brothers, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you agree and that there be no divisions among you, but that you be united in the same mind and the same judgment. <sup>11</sup>For it has been reported to me by Chloe's people that there is quarreling among you, my brothers. <sup>12</sup>What I mean is that each one of you says, "I follow Paul," or "I follow Apollos," or "I follow Cephas," or "I follow Christ." <sup>13</sup>Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Or were you baptized in the name of Paul? <sup>14</sup>I thank God that I baptized none of you except Crispus and Gaius, <sup>15</sup>so that no one may say that you were baptized in my name. <sup>16</sup>(I did baptize also the household of Stephanas. Beyond that, I do not know whether I baptized anyone else.) <sup>17</sup>For Christ did not send me to baptize but to preach the gospel, and not with words of eloquent wisdom, lest the cross of Christ be emptied of its power.

<sup>18</sup>For the word of the cross is folly to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God.

Holy Gospel: Matthew 4:12–25

<sup>12</sup>When [Jesus] heard that John had been arrested, he withdrew into Galilee. <sup>13</sup>And leaving Nazareth he went and lived in Capernaum by the sea, in the territory of Zebulun and Naphtali, <sup>14</sup>so that what was spoken by the prophet Isaiah might be fulfilled:

- <sup>15</sup> "The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles—
- <sup>16</sup> the people dwelling in darkness have seen a great light, and for those dwelling in the region and shadow of death, on them a light has dawned."

<sup>17</sup>From that time Jesus began to preach, saying, "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand."

<sup>18</sup>While walking by the Sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers, Simon (who is called Peter) and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea, for they were fishermen. <sup>19</sup>And he said to them, "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men." <sup>20</sup>Immediately they left their nets and followed him. <sup>21</sup>And going on from there he saw two other brothers, James the son of Zebedee and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets, and he called them. <sup>22</sup>Immediately they left the boat and their father and followed him.

<sup>23</sup>And he went throughout all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and proclaiming the gospel of the kingdom and healing every disease and every affliction among the people. <sup>24</sup>So his fame spread throughout all Syria, and they brought him all the sick, those afflicted with various diseases and pains, those oppressed by demons, epileptics, and paralytics, and he healed them. <sup>25</sup>And great crowds followed him from Galilee and the Decapolis, and from Jerusalem and Judea, and from beyond the Jordan.

The people who walked in darkness
have seen a great light

Epiphany

About the Cover: The stark light of Epiphany cuts through the darkness to show us our Savior. Paradoxically, the darkness of Good Friday is but a shadow cast by the life-giving words of our Lord from His cross. Out of God's love for His people stumbling in the darkness of sin, He has given the light of salvation in His radiant love.

<sup>1</sup>The LORD is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear?
The LORD is the stronghold of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?

<sup>2</sup>When evildoers assail me to eat up my flesh, my adversaries that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my

<sup>5</sup>For he will hide me in his shelter in the day of trouble; he will

<sup>6</sup>And now my head shall be lifted up above my enemies all

MATTHEW 4:20 – "Immediately they left their nets and followed him." Discipleship cost Peter and Andrew everything they had. They left their trade, their hometown, their families, and they followed Jesus. God has called us to the same discipleship, the same devotion, though the exact details of how that is lived out will vary. The important thing is this: we know that all we have is the Lord's, to be used for His purpose. We are His disciples and are ready to follow where He leads.

ATTENDANCE PADS are at the end of each pew. Each family (members and guests) should sign using only ONE box per household, naming all family members present in the one box. EVERYONE needs to indicate their intention to receive Holy Communion on a Communion Sunday. Return pad to the right end of your pew. Thanks for your help with this.

QUARTERY VOTERS' ASSEMBLY is today immediately after the worship service. We pray all will see the importance of your active participation in the business of this congregation and stay for this meeting.

DOLLARS FOR MISSION—One dollar each week to be added to the many other dollars given, multiplying a small gift into a might amount. Your gift will spread the Gospel far and wide. Thank you for your gift.

TERRI will be out of the Office this week.

ALTAR FLOWERS—The new flower chart is on the bulletin board. Please consider providing flowers for a Sunday. Sign the chart and put your money in a yellow envelope. The rest will be done for you. Thank you.

CHRISTIAN LIVING—Matthew 4:12-25: God keeps calling and our calling is to keep witnessing. God called to Adam and Eve in the cool of the afternoon; Ezekiel by the river Chebar; Isaiah in the temple; Samuel while he slept; and Peter, James and John while they were fishing. From God's call comes His direction, guidance, correction, instruction, enlightenment, loving relationships, new missions, acts of care and fellowship bearing His name. So we pray: God, keep calling. Help me to hear Your call. Please don't ever quit calling just because I don't answer, or when I'm slow to respond or when obedience to Your call involves discomfort or trouble. God's call means so much to our witness in this life and for eternity. We belong to Him. We have life now and for eternity through Him. And because of His calling, our life and witness have significance. So, God keep calling - and we'll witness always!

Through all our days, the Lord never leaves us nor forsakes us. ### “The Invader”

Grace, mercy, and peace be yours from God our Father through faith in our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

But there will be no gloom for her who was in anguish. In the former time he brought into contempt the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, but in the latter time he has made glorious the way of the sea, the land beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations.<sup>1</sup>

Our Old Testament Reading begins with these words, promising there would be no gloom for she who was in anguish, a reference to the land of Zebulun and Naphtali. To begin, what is this land? It is actually a portion of the Promised Land. It was promised to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob over a thousand years before Isaiah’s prophecy and, after God delivered Israel from Egypt through Moses, this land was then conquered under Joshua about 650 years before Isaiah’s prophecy, the actual action of the Conquest of Canaan being recorded in the Book of Joshua.

However, another important, though much less exciting event recorded in Joshua is the apportioning of the land to the tribes of Israel. And two of those tribes, Zebulun and Naphtali, named after the two of Jacob’s sons who were the tribes’ founders, were allotted neighboring lands in the northern part of Israel. While not one-to-one, think of these two tribes’ lands like Minnesota and North Dakota, both in the north of the country, sharing a border with each other and, more importantly, bordering the lands outside of the nation, again like Minnesota and North Dakota border Canada.

Zebulun and Naphtali were beautiful and fertile areas in ancient Israel. However, their being in the northern most part of the land also made them susceptible to invasion from the north since the natural barriers of Mediterranean Sea on the west and the Sea of Galilee and the Jordan River on the east funneled invaders to enter through these lands. And so, because of geography, the land of Zebulun and Naphtali were perpetually on the front lines of war and bloodshed.

In fact, at the time of Isaiah’s prophecy which we heard this morning, the Assyrians were in the process of conquering the Zebulun and Naphtali. And within a few years, the entire land of the Northern Kingdom of Israel, of which Zebulun and Naphtali were a part, would be totally conquered by Assyrian and the remaining Southern Kingdom of Judah would be under assault, the only thing stopping their destruction being God’s miraculous intervention, when He sent a holy angel who killed 185,000 Assyrian soldiers in one night.<sup>2</sup>

Thus Isaiah rightly identifies Zebulun and Naphtali as a land upon which the Lord brought contempt. They were a constantly attacked and conquered people. With the Assyrian conquest many of the Israelite natives were removed from the land and those from other lands which

Assyria had conquered elsewhere were brought in to settle Zebulun and Naphtali. Militarily, this made it less likely that the people would revolt as they did not share a common ancestry, national loyalty, or a religious faith. And so the people of this land were burdened, beaten, and battered, being in such bad shape that just a few verses earlier Isaiah called them a land without dawn, of great distress and darkness, covered with the gloom of anguish.<sup>3</sup>

But never forget; this was not the mere chance of history, nothing more than politics of the day. Such were in play, but they were played by the One whose providence controls nature and nations and all of history. Played in this way by God because Israel had abandoned Him, falling into idolatry and all manner of sins. So Zebulun and Naphtali were not merely a land of contempt in the eyes of the world, but also in the eyes of heaven as God unleashed the covenant curses upon His rebellious people. Curses He had declared at the time of Moses. Curses He had warned the people of time and time again through the prophets He had sent. Curses and warnings which the people ignored, did not believe and so did not fear, for they were trapped in the gloom of spiritual darkness, living in impenitence, hard-heartedness, and love of sin.

And it is to these people, trapped in hopelessness, that Isaiah speaks a word of hope. And not just a, “Gee, it’ll be a bit better,” but a complete reversal, where the land of contempt will be made glorious! How will this happen? Clearly it is not something the people could do; people who are dominated in their bodies, dominated in their souls. No. God must be the one to do it. And He will do it by another “invader.” And just two verses after our Old Testament Reading, Isaiah names this “invader” and, as he does such, he gives the reason for hope.

For to us a child is born, to us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder, and his name shall be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.<sup>4</sup>

Thus God’s “invader” is not an army from the north, but one Man who comes from heaven itself, comes first as a Child, born of the Virgin. The Child who is Immanuel, “God with us,”<sup>5</sup> for He is God’s incarnate eternal Son, Jesus Christ. And how different this “invasion” is!

Jesus takes no hostages, plunders no food, and sheds no blood, except of course His own. Instead His invasion is one of words, through His preaching and teaching, “Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.”<sup>6</sup> It is this man—and the beautiful saving Gospel He speaks—who is the great light that shines upon this land of gloom and darkness. For Jesus did not come to plunder and to enslave the people, but instead to plunder Satan’s kingdom and so free those enslaved to him because of their sin. And the more Jesus preaches, teaches, and works His miracles, the brighter the light of redemption shines forth. Thus St. Matthew records the fulfillment of Isaiah’s prophecy in today’s Gospel as we heard, and the land once held in contempt is glorified as people, instead of fleeing it, flow into it to be rescued by the “Heavenly Invader.”

So it is that as the light of Jesus increases, the true source of the darkness was increasingly exposed. While the wicked conquerors from the north were terrible, they were never the real threat for they were God’s response to the real threat, the sin within them that led them to treat God as the undesired foreigner. The sin in them that was brought about by the real invader, the true enemy of mankind, the devilish serpent who slithered into the Garden to plunder God’s precious treasure, mankind. The invader whose attack left a slaughter in his wake that is unparalleled, for all of mankind became doomed to die, spiritually, physically, eternally. Sin, the ghoulis specter of death, the schemes of Satan and his demonic legions, the coming fires of hell, these are the things that ultimately held the land of Zebulon and Naphtali, in perpetual darkness. These were the real forces of oppression. And so these are the oppressors whom Jesus will rescue them from, His light burning away their darkness.

Of course, like any invader, Jesus does make a claim upon the people for He declares Himself to be their Lord, the true and eternal King whom God the Father has sent to rescue and rule His people.<sup>7</sup> But the people will not be won by violence and oppression, for they are the ones under such. Truly, His is a kingdom of peace and freedom as Jesus overcomes the tyrants that hold them in chains. So the people will not be won over by threats, but by promises. True, the threats of wrath, judgment, and destruction will be spoken, lest His promises be ignored. But the promises of grace, of forgiveness, of love and mercy upon repentant sinners, these are what will change people's hearts; these will make a people who love Him and gladly choose to obey Him.

It is the love of God in Christ Jesus that would break the yoke of their burden. As Gideon with just three hundred men broke the power of Midian over Israel by God's miraculous deliverance, even more will the greater Gideon, Jesus, break the power of hell over mankind. For once more great darkness would come over the land, not just Zebulon and Naphtali, but the whole land, when Jesus, the Light of the World, hung on a cross until He died.

But the darkness did not remain and the ending of the physical darkness foreshadowed something greater. For the sunrise on the third day, a Sunday morning, was a picture of a far greater sunrise, when Jesus, the Light of the World, the Son of God, rose in conquering glory. And His spiritual darkness dispelling light continues to invade the world as the Gospel is proclaimed throughout the whole creation.<sup>8</sup>

Brothers and sisters, we of course do not share the geographical particulars of the land of Zebulon and Naphtali. But we do, by nature, share the same darkness that engulfed them, that of our own sin and, through such, Satan's oppression. And truly, such is God's contempt upon "the land" of sinners, His righteous judgment upon all who reject Him. So let us repent of our sins. For we know better than to think that they are a thing of the past, since the yoke of sin weighs heavy on our hearts, as from them much evil flows forth, corrupting our thoughts, words, deeds.<sup>9</sup>

But even as we share that same darkness, so also we share the same glorious light which banishes it. For the light of Christ has shined and continues to shine upon us. Jesus "invaded" your life when you were baptized, as He claimed you as His own, washing your sins away and giving you the Holy Spirit. And He continues "occupying" you as you hear His Word and receive His body and blood in the Holy Communion. Through these means, His "heavenly weapons," your sins are forgiven and Satan is cast out. A spiritual victory over the kingdom of darkness that has brought you into the kingdom of light. A spiritual victory, but one that will be made manifest in your whole being. For on the Last Day you will be ushered into the true Promised Land of the new creation. And there your liberation from all enemies of body, mind and soul, both within and without, will be enjoyed forever under your gracious King. Amen!

Presentation of the Offering

Lord Jesus Christ, by Your Holy Spirit give us vision to see the needs of Your kingdom, and give us hearts so filled with thankfulness that we will generously give and diligently labor to fulfill them. Amen.

O Lord, heavenly Father, we gratefully remember the sufferings and death of Your dear Son, Jesus Christ, for our salvation. Rejoicing in His victorious resurrection from the dead, we draw strength from His ascension before You, where He ever stands for us as our own High Priest. Gather us together from the ends of the earth to celebrate with all the faithful the marriage feast of the Lamb in His kingdom, which has no end. Graciously receive our prayers, deliver and preserve us, for to You alone we give all glory, honor and worship, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. Amen.
